GRAND MARSHALL 2020
Janet Gleave

It is an honor to have Janet Gleave as this year's Grand Marshall for the Piute County Fair. Seeing Janet without her late husband, Randy, isn't the same. They have been an integral part of Piute County. Randy and Janet were married right out of high school and began their journey in McGill, Nevada, and Gillett, Wyoming where Randy was working construction. Ultimately, Randy decided that he wanted to fulfill his dream as a full-time rancher, so they moved to Kingston Town (Piute County). Piute County is home to them as they have lived there for fifty years! Randy and Janet raised four very successful children: Marty, Robby, Janetta, and Klyn. They also have twenty grandchildren and eleven great grandchildren. Janet has had many achievements: she was the manager of "The Station" in Circleville, Utah for twenty years, and she volunteered at numerous sporting events and activities throughout the years. She is caring and thoughtful of others by sending Get Well and Birthday Cards and taking food to anyone who is in need. Janet has been an important part of the fair. She has been making her ever famous rodeo burger for well over twenty-five years. Janet works so hard in the concessions for all three nights that the arena is in use. You can see her cooking, cleaning, and making sure that everything is prepped and ready so the fans and volunteers have good food to eat. Her late husband, Randy, worked behind the scenes hauling ice, cleaning grills, fetching propane, and directing the work. Randy was dearly missed last year, and Janet was still seen working hard. She loves the county fair and she attend all the events every year. Janet has a team behind her as all of her grandchildren have been a huge part in helping make the concessions a success--their favorite part of summer is the Piute County Fair.

For every Rodeo Burger that you see being eaten just know our Grand Marshal Janet is the one flipping them.

To those that make it happen...
